

DRYCLEAN DAVE

Uptowne Drycleaning, Inc.

Fred and Jeff,

One of my customers noticed the A. L. Wilson restoration poster on my wall, and inquired about restoring her 40-year-old wedding gown. Apparently, her son was getting married and he wanted his fiancé to wear his mother's gown. The fiancé politely refused because "the gown is way too yellow"....

I told my customer that, having four daughters, I doubted that the color had anything to do with her not wanting to wear his mother's gown, and I would prove it. I soaked the gown in DroGo, and it came out of the process absolutely like new, 40 years of yellowing removed in one night. My customer was amazed, gladly paid me $125.00 and hurried to show her son and future daughter-in-law the now pristinely white gown.

The next time I saw my customer, she returned with the gown to have it boxed. "You were right, my son is buying his fiancé a new gown", she said, "but my daughter is thrilled that now she can wear my gown when she gets married". Thanks, guys, DroGo does it, again.

David N. Silliman
Uptowne Drycleaning, Inc.
Phoenix, Az.

Subj: Good Product
Date: 7/29/02 9:07:02 PM Eastern Daylight Time
From: DeRestore@aol.com
To: Fred@alwilson.com

Dear Jeff,

I just wanted you to know how pleased I was to use Wilson's DroGo "A" and DroGo "B" on a beautiful very old christening gown and slip. They came to me with an ugly gray blue color and after using your product according to the directions, they both turned out white as snow. My customer was so happy and was thrilled when I only charged her $150.00

Best Regards,

Doris Easley